“Bible Wisdom for Economic Challenges”

“...Behold, All Things are Become New.” is the title of a new computer program recently developed by New Creations, Fremont, Ohio. This Bible based reference library features scriptures giving wisdom on Kingdom economics. The main message is how to prosper with God as the Divine Administrator in business, in ministry, and in life.

New Creations owner, Tom Hills, developed this program after years of researching Bible references about financial matters, prosperity, and common sense approaches to everyday challenges. With many years experience as an entrepreneur and business consultant, Tom was amazed at how many Bible verses provide wisdom on money matters. As he studied the details of various Old and New Testament scriptures, he realized the information could be adapted to everyone's financial challenges.

Tom's research material, the 1611 King James Bible, and Greek/Hebrew transliterated text have been combined to create a comprehensive reference library compatible with all versions of MS Windows. User defined entry allow for unlimited word and phrase searches of the Bible and accompanying commentary. Users can add their own notes to all areas of the program, providing for documenting important information relative to individual research.

The Gospel of Mark, Chapter 6, reveals three exciting precepts for experiencing prosperity. Most people focus on the fact that Jesus fed so many people with two fish and five loaves of bread. They overlook the fact that Jesus actually tells how it was done. We can use this same wisdom to meet our own needs and challenges.

Original Christian graphics in the form of stained glass windows add an artistic touch to the system. All graphics and illustrations are the creations of Vickey Hills, the author's wife. The package includes an icon library of several of Vickey's graphics that can be used royalty free.

“...Behold” comes on a CD for installation on any MS Windows PC.
